Tel Aviv, April 6 (RHC)-- A doctor at an Israeli field hospital for detained Gazans said in a letter to government officials: "We are all complicit in breaking the law," as they described the horrific conditions for Palestinian patients.

The doctor, who wished to remain anonymous for his own protection, said: "Just this week, two prisoners had their legs amputated due to handcuff injuries, which unfortunately is a routine event." The doctor also said patients at the Negev desert facility are fed through straws, forced to defecate in diapers and held in constant restraints.
