

Cuba vs Serbia on Wednesday in a very important clash in the VNL

Image not found or type unknown

Havana, June 17 (RHC).- The Cuban men's volleyball team will face Serbia this Wednesday, at the beginning of the third week of the Nations League (VNL), hosted in Slovenia.

For both teams it will be a very important clash, since they are directly competing for the last Olympic qualification spot by ranking.

At this moment, the Serbs occupy the ninth place in the ranking with 251.55 points, with a minimum advantage of almost one unit over the Cubans, who are tenth.

The Cuban roster, which traveled to Europe on Saturday, is the same as the first two weeks, in which the stars Robertlandy Simón, Marlon Yant and Miguel Angel López stand out.

After a long trip from Havana, the Cuban team already trained this Monday at the competition headquarters.

Cuban matches in the third and final qualifying week of the VNL

Against Serbia June 19 (10:30 Cuba time)

Against Slovenia June 20 (2:30 p.m. Cuba time)

Against Bulgaria June 21 (10:30 Cuba time)

Against Poland June 23 (7:00 a.m. Cuba time)

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/deportes/357625-cuba-vs-serbia-on-wednesday-in-a-very-important-clash-in-the-vnl>

Radio Habana Cuba