

J.D. Vance's website mysteriously disappears -- along with his right-wing, reactionary messages

Image not found or type unknown

Washington, July 18 (RHC)-- J.D. Vance, the right-wing Ohio Republican senator whom former President Donald Trump has tapped to be his vice presidential running-mate, recently scrapped all mention of his anti-abortion stances from his campaign website.

The deletion of Vance's views on abortion was first noticed by HuffPost senior politics reporter Jennifer Bendery, who published a tweet on Vance's views earlier this week, using a screenshot taken from the senator's site at the time.

Vance described himself as “100 percent pro-life” and called for “eliminating abortion” completely.

“This is no longer on JD Vance’s website,” Bendery said in a tweet on Tuesday.

In fact, as of Wednesday morning, Vance’s website is completely inaccessible — those seeking to go to jdvance.com are now forwarded to Trump’s official campaign website instead.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/360362-jd-vances-website-mysteriously-disappears-along-with-his-right-wing-reactionary-messages>

Radio Habana Cuba