

President Nicolas Maduro assures sovereignty and independence of Venezuela has been secured

Image not found or type unknown

Caracas, August 2 (RHC)-- The President of Venezuela, Nicolás Maduro Moros, attended this Thursday the meeting of the National Council of Productive Economy Agroindustrial Sector, where the lines of work for potential Venezuelan productive apparatus were discussed.

President Maduro said that the Bolivarian nation defeated the barriers of economic war and that the largest amount of food is produced for consumption by Venezuelans. President Nicolás Maduro said he will continue to support entrepreneurs to further strengthen the resurgence of the Venezuelan economy.

“The economic strategy we have built among ourselves, it is our economic thinking, Venezuelan of the 21st century, we have taken from the economic currents, but we have taken from the real experience and the potentiality of the Venezuelan economy” stressed the president.

He also said that they have managed to articulate in engines, in virtuous circuits, which allows the economy to withstand the actions that have happened on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and every day that passes, will be more controlled and open up more peace and stability, so that there is work, prosperity, production especially in the second half of the year”.

Also the president said that he has won the economic war and hyperinflation generated by the political conspiracy of imperialism in conjunction with the sectors of the extreme right, there the president assured that Venezuela will never again be committed to its economy thanks to the action of the popular power in combination with the Venezuelan government to boost the country.

As the actions to be carried out “we have the most stable dollar price in the last eight months of twelve years, hyperinflation defeated, moderate consolidation with downward trend, economic growth of the real economy stable. democratization of credit, autonomous exchange system, good level of collection and increase national and international investment.”

During the meeting, the president said that a major cyber-attack in history is underway in Venezuela. He also explained that in the course of the violence that took place in the nation and how people trusted the promises of the opposition, and reiterated “who are the people responsible for sanctions, and the very ones who asked for sanctions were going to bring them in, there were people who believed that, That is the power of the cyber coup they are trying to impose on Venezuela.”

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/361776-president-nicolas-maduro-assures-sovereignty-and-independence-of-venezuela-has-been-secured>

Radio Habana Cuba