

Trump campaign charters private jet formerly owned by his long-time buddy Jeffrey Epstein

Image not found or type unknown

Donald J. Trump with Jeffrey Epstein in 1997 in Palm Beach, Fla. Their lives intersected for decades before a falling out. Credit...Davidoff Studios/Getty Images

Miami, August 13 (RHC)-- On Monday evening, Trump returned to the social media platform X, formerly known as Twitter, for the first time since he was banned for inciting the January 6 Capitol insurrection.

The 2-hour-long live stream hosted by CEO Elon Musk was delayed by 40 minutes due to technical malfunctions. Trump's return to X came after he rallied thousands of supporters in Montana over the weekend.

Donald Trump: "If comrade Walz and comrade Harris win this November, the people cheering will be the pink-haired Marxists, the looters, the perverts, the flag burners, Hamas supporters, drug dealers, gun grabbers and human traffickers."

Trump left Montana aboard a private jet after his Boeing 757 experienced a mechanical problem. The Trump campaign later confirmed press reports that the Gulfstream jet was once owned by Jeffrey Epstein. A spokesperson said the Trump campaign had "no idea" the plane used to belong to the serial sexual predator. Trump was a longtime high-profile friend of Epstein who previously flew aboard his private planes at least seven times.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/362718-trump-campaign-charters-private-jet-formerly-owned-by-his-long-time-buddy-jeffrey-epstein>

Radio Habana Cuba