

Trump signs executive orders targeting schools that teach transgender rights, critical race theory and public school funding

Washington, February 1 (RHC)-- U.S. President Donald Trump has issued two executive orders targeting K-through-12 education, including one that would block federal funding for schools that protect transgender students and teach critical race theory. The order also promotes so-called patriotic education.

A separate executive order directs the Education Department and several other government agencies to redirect taxpayer funds from public education to private school vouchers.
