

Students launch week of actions after Barnard College in New York City expels two students over protest for Palestine

Image not found or type unknown

New York, February 25 (RHC)-- In New York City, students at Columbia University and Barnard College are launching a week of actions to demand Barnard reverse its decision to expel two students who participated in protests for Palestinian rights that allegedly disrupted a class called "History of Modern Israel."

Barnard College previously suspended over 50 students and evicted 46 undergraduates for demonstrating for Palestinian rights.

[SOURCE: DEMOCRACY NOW]

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/377334-students-launch-week-of-actions-after-barnard-college-in-new-york-city-expels-two-students-over-protest-for-palestine>

Radio Habana Cuba