

Cuban Foreign Minister Meets with Visiting U.S. Congressional Delegation

Havana, January 20 (RHC) — Cuban Foreign Minister Bruno Rodriguez met on Monday with a group of U.S. congresspeople who visited the island over the weekend.

The visitors included senators Patrick Leahy (Vermont), Richard Durbin (Illinois), Sheldon Whitehouse (Rhode Island) and Debbie Stabenow (Michigan), and representatives Christopher van Hollen (Maryland) and Peter Welch (Vermont), all democrats, Granma newspaper reported.

The meeting, during which the parties addressed issues of bilateral interest, was also attended by the general director of the United States Division at the Cuban Foreign Ministry, Josefina Vidal, and by the head of the Cuban Interests Section in Washington, Jose Ramon Cabañas.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/nacionales/44094-cuban-foreign-minister-meets-with-visiting-us-congressional-delegation>

Radio Habana Cuba