

Cuban Book Fair Available on the Internet

Havana, February 10 (RHC)-- The events and activities of the upcoming International Book Fair Havana 2005 can be accessed on the Internet, according to the organizing committee.

The idea is sharing with the whole world all this beauty and dynamics of the fair and surpass the half a million followers we had last year, said Poet Karel Leyva.

Meanwhile, videos of previous editions of the fair can be accessed on YouTube and other Internet platforms.

The fair will open February 13th to the public, but it will be officially inaugurated a day before at the Morro-Cabaña Park with India as the guest country.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/nacionales/46294-cuban-book-fair-available-on-the-internet>

Radio Habana Cuba