

Vietnamese President Proposes Exchanging Experiences with Cuba

Binh.

Hanoi, March 13 (RHC) -- Vietnamese President Truong Tan Sang hosted a reception for Cuban Prosecutor General Dario Delgado Cura on Thursday, VietnamNet reported. At the meeting, Truong suggested setting up a mechanism to share political experiences and expertise on the fight against corruption and other crimes.

He also advocated the promotion of contacts, including visits, between the Supreme People's Procuracy of Vietnam and Cuba.

The State leader expressed his satisfaction with the growing friendship between the two countries. He affirmed that Vietnam has always considered Cuba's achievements its own and vice versa.

Delgado told Sang that during his working session with the Supreme People's Procuracy they reviewed and signed several agreements.

The Cuban Prosecutor General also held a meeting with the Vietnamese Chief Judge of the Supreme People's Court, Truong Hoa

Radio Habana Cuba