

Six Greenpeace Activists Board Shell Arctic Oil Drilling Rig

Seattle, April 8 (RHC)-- Six environmentalists with the group Greenpeace have boarded a Shell oil rig in the middle of the Pacific Ocean to protest Shell's plans to drill in the Arctic.

The activists climbed aboard the Polar Pioneer as it was transported to Seattle before heading out to Alaskan waters. They plan to occupy the rig and unfurl a banner showing the names of people opposed to Arctic drilling.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/51920-six-greenpeace-activists-board-shell-arctic-oil-drilling-rig>

Radio Habana Cuba