

Tourism Event to Focus on Environmental Protection

Havana, July 28 (RHC) -- Cuba will host the International Event on Nature Tourism Turnat 2015 next September. The forum will have among its main topics environmental protection and agro-tourism, its organizers said.

"On this occasion, the tenth international event will be held in the Cuban western region where truly interesting landscapes are located", said Emma Rosa Fonseca, commercial director of Ecotur, and Franklin Marin, specialist in that company. The event is scheduled to take place from September 22th to 27th this year.
