

Israeli Troops Shut Down West Bank Radio Station Amid Latest Attacks

Ramallah, November 3 (RHC)-- The Israeli military has shut down a radio station in the occupied West Bank, destroying equipment, confiscating transmitters and accusing the station of inciting violence against Israelis.

Al Hurria radio station director Ayman Qawasmeh told the Associated Press: "We didn't incite, we just reported the Israeli daily crimes against our people in Hebron. They want to silence our voice."

On Monday, a 22-year-old Palestinian was shot dead after Israeli authorities accused him of stabbing and seriously wounding an Israeli man in the coastal city of Netanya. Hours earlier, a 19-year-old Palestinian was arrested for stabbing and wounding three people near Tel Aviv.
