

Paraguayan Doctors Strike Amid Wave of Anti-Government Protests

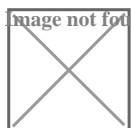

Image not found or type unknown

Asunción, November 5 (teleSUR-RHC)-- More than 750 Paraguayan doctors

Doctors at Asunción's important Clinics Hospital will only see patients

The strike escalates a movement recently launched by doctors to promote solutions

According to spokesperson Lorena Fontclara, the hospital suffers from shortages

Nurses, administrative workers, and other health care providers are also supporting

The doctors' strike comes a day after students, teachers, and transit workers

Last week, a mass mobilization of campesinos from across the country marched in

Amid the wave of protests, diverse social sectors and unions have declared their

The mass mobilization will be the second general strike in the two years since

Organizers hope to create a broad coalition of campesinos, students, unions, n

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/74925-paraguayan-doctors-strike-amid-wave-of-anti-government-protests>

Radio Habana Cuba