

Havana Hosts International Congress on Marine Sciences

Havana, November 16 (RHC)-- The 10th International Congress on Marine Sciences 'Marcuba 2015' began sessions in Havana Monday with the participation of more than 400 delegates from the United States, Brazil, Spain, Australia, Cuba and other countries.

The event, which runs through Friday, includes various symposiums dedicated to risk management and the human impact, climate change, biodiversity, preservation and biotechnology.

Organized by the National Oceanographic Institute, the National Aquarium and the Center for Marine Research, the event will also include a fair and exhibition to show the results of Cuban institutions in the sector.

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/nacionales/76037-havana-hosts-international-congress-on-marine-sciences>

Radio Habana Cuba