

Paraguayan Guerrilla Leaders Killed in Clash with Army

Image not found or type unknown

Asunción, November 18 (teleSUR-RHC)-- Four members of the Paraguayan guerrilla group

Interior Minister Francisco de Vargas said Tuesday at a press conference.

Events took place in the area of Concepción, about 300 miles north of capital Asunción.

The ACA is considered a splinter group from the Paraguayan People's Army, or Ejército Popular

Authorities say the insurgents have killed more than 50 people since 2008, and have

The ACA is currently holding police sergeant Edelio Morinigo and Mennonite settler

The northern region of Paraguay, known for its ranching industry, has been populated

The leader of the Guasu Front, Fernando Lugo, who was a former president ousted in

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/76218-paraguayan-guerrilla-leaders-killed-in-clash-with-army>

Radio Habana Cuba