

School Programs Work Hard in Venezuela

One of the caterers explains that they too have benefited from the food program. "They pay us fairly because now we receive the minimum wage. We get food vouchers." Back across town at Base Aerea Generalissimo Francisco de Miranda school, where Zapata, like many in the Venezuelan schools system, recognizes that "there are

<https://www.radiohc.cu/index.php/en/noticias/internacionales/77102-school-programs-work-hard-in-venezuela>

Radio Habana Cuba