

Doctors Without Borders Says U.S.-Backed Bombing Campaign Hits Mobile Clinic in Yemen

Sanaa, December 4 (RHC)-- In Yemen, Doctors Without Borders has accused the U.S.-backed Saudi-led coalition of bombing its mobile clinic in Taiz, injuring nine people, including two staff members.

Doctors Without Borders says it had provided the GPS coordinates of the clinic in advance. Wednesday's bombing was the fourth attack on a Doctors Without Borders facility in recent weeks.

In October, U.S. airstrikes leveled a Doctors Without Borders hospital in Kunduz, Afghanistan, killing at least 30 people, including 14 staff members.
