

Pentagon Gives White House Plan to Bomb ISIL in Libya

Washington, March 9 (RHC)-- The Pentagon has reportedly presented the White House with the most detailed outline to date for possible military action against ISIL in Libya.

The New York Times, citing anonymous officials, said the options include airstrikes against as many as 40 targets across four areas of Libya.

Libya has been engulfed in fighting after a NATO and U.S.-backed military intervention ousted leader Colonel Muammar Gaddafi in 2011.
